Hi Jasmin,

Thanks for coming out! We're happy to shed light on the work we do and it's even better when there's beautiful weather to take advantage of.

We can definitely send you the final monitoring reports upon Project completion. I'll make a note in our compliance matrix where we track commitments/permit conditions to make sure we do that.

As far as the inspections go, GZA doesn't have a specific inspector or day they do them every week since there are variables in weather and scheduling. Typically they'll send someone out between Wednesday-Friday to conduct the inspection. Since it varies week to week if you want to give me a heads up when the Specialist is available, I'll confirm with GZA who's inspecting and when to coordinate meeting out in the field together.

I'll check in with Jeremy on a comparable location on the O154 since he was the permitting lead on that Project. I'll circle back shortly on that.

Stay safe with this upcoming weather!

Thanks,
Ashley

Hi Ashley,

Thanks again for coordinating another great site visit. It was very informative and great for our folks to see everything first hand. Plus, it was great to be out in nice weather and sunshine! Some follow up questions about post project monitoring came up on the ride back to the office. It was mentioned that GZA continues to monitor and compile reports once a project is completed – can those reports be shared with us? Also, is it possible for FS to accompany the monitoring visits? Our specialists were also curious to observe a completed project site – especially where timber mats were used in wetland areas or those including sensitive species. Do you know if there's any comparable sites along the O154 corridor? I believe that project was completed on WMNF a year or so ago, could sections up in Stark be a good example for our specialists to visit?

Hey Jasmin,

Sounds good! Yes—that's the correct location and time.

I'll send out an invite so it's on the calendar. Please forward to Catherine and Maddy.

We'll keep you posted if any changes happen and greatly appreciate your understanding and flexibility.

Good morning Ashley,

Looks like Tuesday is the winner for our team. So far I have confirmed Catherine (Botany), Maddy (Soils), and myself. We can meet you at 0800 with the usual PPE? Is Eastern Corner Road the correct location (43.8181960, -71.6012400)?

And of course, we'll totally understand if the weather doesn't play nice again – just keep us posted. Thanks!

Hi Ashley,

No worries, we totally understand. It's the nature of the work! There was little traction on our end too since Monday is a safety meeting day, so it worked out! I'll be away at a training all next week, so I'm including Marianne here in the off chance that you reschedule to later in the week or even early the following week. She'll help coordinate the FS team and keep everything moving while I'm away.

I apologize for speaking too soon. The condition of Algonquin Road is driving the schedule for work in this area and the freeze-thaw cycle continues to throw a wrench in our ability to work.

We will need to delay the site visit on Monday. I'm hoping the weather starts to dry out but this weekend is not looking promising. I'm very sorry to reschedule and will let you know as soon as we have a date.

Hey Jasmin,

We have a date! Our contractor is planning to matt structure 78 on 3/18. Activities to drill the new structure, set the new pole, and then transfer wire and remove the existing pole will continue through March and April. Matting will be removed as soon as work is completed and before of the start of the 2024 growing season (May 1, 2024). Would WMNF like to be present on 3/18 or prefer to visit during other activities? Let me know and we can get a site visit on the calendar.

To our minimize impact and continue to use the access road in this area past May 1, 2024, we'd like to shift the road outside of the Canada Mountain Ricegrass (CMRG) plot. I've included the original plans and an updated version of the plan. Please note that the access road shift falls within the area that GZA surveyed as they surveyed 30' beyond where rare plants were identified to determine the outer extent of the plot.

Please pass this along to your team and let us know if you have any concerns with this proposal. We believe it's a win-win since we'll be minimizing our impact to the CMRG plot and also continue to use this road after May 1st, where access is extremely difficult.

Let me know your thoughts! I'm off on Friday but will be available otherwise.

Thanks,
Ashley

Hi Ashley,

I passed it on to Dan and he didn't come back with anything urgent. He'll discuss it with the Eco team and consider it more for the upcoming visit, or towards spring when ground is thawed and we have better context.

Late February for the next site visit sounds good. Just as a heads up, I'll be on leave starting Feb 01 and back in the office on Feb 19. I might pop online to check email on the 15th, but no guarantees. I know scheduling can come down to the last minute and will do my best to coordinate when I return from leave. Hey Jasmin,

We anticipate roughly 5+ acres of area that will be disturbed and require restoration within WMNF.

For temporary stabilization during construction, we propose weed-free straw mulching areas to prevent erosion and allowing them to revegetate from the native seed bank. When performing final restoration activities, matting will be removed from the interior of WMNF towards the outward entry roads. During this process we would like to add an approved seed to assist with stabilization, as needed. Once matting is removed it will be very difficult to revisit areas to add seed as equipment will no longer be able to access the ROW. We would utilize the NE Wetland Plants, Inc. mixes that were recommended.

We can certainly discuss more during the next site visit, tentatively in late February, but please let me know if there are any questions in the meantime with the proposed approach.

Thanks,
Ashley

Hey Jasmin,

I'll circle back with the team to review and get you answers as soon as possible.

The mix proposed is commonly used by contractors for stabilization due to the quick germination rate and these plants commonly being present in NH, but we definitely understand and support the desire for a native-dense seed mix within WMNF.

I should be able to get back to you next week—I'll be taking off this afternoon but back in the office on Monday.

Hi Ashley, I sent the proposed seed mix info to Dan and Catherine and received the response below. Please provide additional context and/or any further questions I can relay back to the Botany team. Thanks!

The proposed seed mix is not ideal as it contains all non-native seed; our S&Gs call for using native seed as much as possible. Since there is very little non-native presence in the powerline to begin with, it would be good to keep it that way, so in this context I can't endorse that seed mix. My recommendations may depend on the individual situations. And it would be helpful to have some additional context. For example:

- Do they have an estimate how much area will be disturbed (ie ft² or acreage) and potentially need revegetation?
- And how much of these areas consist of disturbed native soil material vs new material brought in?
- How much on steep ground where quick establishment may be needed? I think Kristi/Maddy might want to weigh in on what kind of slopes really require seeding vs. potentially just letting native seed bank do its thing.

In general, our default with native soil material revegetation, and areas that are relatively small, is to let native seed bank do the revegetation on its own, perhaps with some non-persistent annual like winter rye just to get something established quickly. If the disturbance is really heavy – ie deep churning of native soil material – vs just relatively light surface soil scarification, we might want to seed with a mix.

If we are talking B112 only, since it is happening entirely during the winter, I don't think we want to seed any disturbed wetlands since they should regrow, and since they should be fairly protected by the platforms – but yes, maybe straw for erosion control? The uplands depends on the questions above, in part.

In situations where we think we need or want to reseed, and if we aren't talking about huge acreage, they could use these mixes from NE Wetland Plants, Inc – such as Logging Road Mix or the Dry site mix. These mixes use either no perennial non-natives, or only small amounts to help establish a light matrix to increase the success of establishment of the native species.

<https://newp.com/product/new-england-logging-road-mix/>

<https://newp.com/product/new-england-erosion-control-restoration-mix-for-dry-sites/>

I think we would have more context and better recommendations if we review the areas in the spring after they are finished and finalize recommendations then. If that is not feasible, they should go with one of the mixes from NE Wetland Plants or approved alternative with native seed.

Hey Jasmin,

Thanks for understanding and sorry there's not a better system yet!

I was able to get the seed mix the contractor is proposing for restoration, attached. This is used in uplands and the wetlands are mulched for stabilization and allow the native seed bank to revegetate. Please share with Christine and let us know if there are any questions on the selection.

As far as timing for a site visit at structure 78 right now we're looking at end of February. We'll stay in touch as we get closer to lock in a date.

Hey Jasmin,

It was great meeting with you Wednesday! I'm still working on getting an ETA for the structure 78 area of interest and also that native seed mix but will get that over to you as soon as I can.

Attached are photos of equipment Supreme will be mobilizing into WMNF next week. JCR has additional equipment planned for mobilization as well so as soon as they're cleaned and get photos to me I'll send those over for you and the team.

Let me know if you have any questions and I hope you have a nice holiday weekend!

Thanks,
Ashley
