Hi Sarah,

We'll adjust the maps etc. to reflect the current site number for the C. Young site. We will send over the spatial data, are shapefiles an acceptable format for you? If so, please let me know the preferred datum and coordinate system that would be easiest for you to merge with your database.

As far as matting, I've had many conversations with various Tribal and NHDHR personnel about the effectiveness of matting as a protective measure and I'll make sure to include some documentation/citations in the final report.

I'll send back a final version of the EOF once the edits are complete.

Finally, I just confirmed that I will be in Campton tomorrow and I'll drop the B112 artifacts off at the front desk of your office as planned.

Thanks!

Jake

Hi Jake,

Thank you for sharing the report. The C. Young post-contact site has a site number: 27-GR-2012 and FS# 0922010012. Also note that the current Eliza Brook shelter was constructed in 2010. Please forward spatial data for your survey areas, test pit transects, and documented archaeological sites and features within the WMNF. If you have documentation that indicates matting is an effective protection measure for archaeological sites, please reference that in the final report.

Thank you,
Sarah

Hi Sarah,

Attached for your review is an end-of-field letter with a summary of the results and recommendations from IAC's Phase IB survey of several archaeologically sensitive areas (SAs) located within the WMNF and along the Eversource X178 Line ROW. Please let me know if you have any questions, concerns or edits you'd like made.

Thanks!

Jake
